APW is a brand new product for All Paws Pet Wash. It is a piece of self-serve pet washing equipment that can be implemented and used in many different industries. These units are built with the quality and precision that our other products have been built with since 2009. The APW is built out of the best quality aluminum and is sand blasted then powder coated for a smooth finish. APW offers six different treatments as well as a two speed grooming blow dryer. It provides an affordable way for a customer to wash their pet without having to worry about messing up their own home or emptying their wallets.

The pet industry is a $50 billion industry and has only increased each year for the past decade. There are almost 80 million dog owners in the United States and that equals almost $4 billion in total gross revenue for the grooming and boarding industries.
